

Glass Elevator knows that connecting you with top women talent is essential to discovering unique perspectives that create the best projects with the strongest box office and highest ratings so we are proud to help facilitate that.

How to post jobs to Glass Elevator

- 1 Go to www.glasselevate.com/jobs
- 2 If this is your first time, select “Register as an Employer to Post a Job”
If you already have an account, log in
- 3 On the Jobs page select “Post a Job”
- 4 Complete the form, et viola!

Keep in mind...

- Glass Elevator has over 4,000 international members in every job description from script through criticism. Our members are Executives, Talent, Above the Line, Heads of Departments, Crew & Programmers. Some have won Emmys and Academy Awards.
- Please know that the details of the job posting are only viewable to members when they are logged into their accounts. Members should not share job posting info from this site elsewhere. Only job headings can be seen by non-members.
- To protect project privacy, you do not need to disclose company or project name in your post. Feel free to use a temporary email for submissions.
- Please be very specific about how applicants should submit so that your process is ideal for your goals - ie. should the applicant submit via managers or agents, would you like referrals, what specific skills are you seeking, etc.
- Posting jobs is absolutely free
- Jobs posted to Glass Elevator must be paid. Unpaid internships are not accepted.

Thank you!

Jen McGowan
Founder, Glass Elevator

If you are a woman in the film & tv industries and would like to join please apply at www.glasselevate.com